

Selection Process

An athlete will apply online via the Maccabi GB website. Depending on their chosen sport, they will be notified by the Team Manager if/when trials are to take place. Where an athlete has trialed, the Team Managers will select their squad and the trialists will be informed via email by Maccabi GB who has been successful/unsuccessful.

Those selected to compete for Team Maccabi GB, will be sent a Handbook and any supporting documents, including financial procedures.

An athlete is only deemed accepted once both the deposit and standing order has been received by Maccabi GB and the relevant agreements and medical processes have been signed and completed.

It is Maccabi GB's aim to take the maximum number of athletes and squads to the Games. However this is not always possible. Maccabi GB are reliant on other countries bringing squads to the Games in order to make each competition viable. If for example a country pulls out and in turn a competition does not have the minimum number of teams required, that sports competition will not go ahead. Maccabi GB will offer a full refund to participants in these circumstances.

Important Disclaimer: Maccabi GB cannot be held responsible in any circumstances for any costs (including for accommodation and/or flights) incurred by parents, families or supporters travelling to the Games to support a Maccabi GB athlete. Maccabi GB cannot guarantee that any athlete selected will be able to take part in the Games. A competition may be cancelled (including at short notice), an athlete may not be fit to compete or may not be able to take part for some other reason. All costs and expenses incurred by parents, families or supporters in travelling to the Games are incurred at your own risk.
